

DR TIMOTHY HEWITT
PLASTIC AND RECONSTRUCTIVE SURGEON

Privacy Policy

Current as of: June 2018

Introduction

This privacy policy is to provide information to you, our patient, on how your personal information (which includes your health information and photographs) is collected and used by Dr Timothy Hewitt and his employee's, and the circumstances in which we may share it with third parties. This policy establishes the reasons for collecting personal information, how the information will be used and to whom, if necessary, the information is disclosed.

Dr Timothy Hewitt is open and transparent in the management of patients/clients' personal information. We are committed to protecting the privacy of our patients and clients and of other individuals and organisations that communicate with our practices. We comply with the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) and will update our policy and procedures when required to continue to adhere to the APPs.

A copy of our Privacy Policy is available on our website <https://gynaecomastiaperth.com/> and can be obtained in writing, free of charge, on request.

If you have specific concerns please contact our office on (08) 9388 9222 or email info@timhewittplasticsurgeon.com.au.

The Privacy Act 1988 gives individuals the right to complain if you think we have not complied with the Australian Privacy Principles in handling your personal information. We ask that in the event that you wish to complain about a breach of our policy, please initially address your complaint in writing to info@timhewittplasticsurgeon.com.au, or by mail at 21/3 Wexford Street, Subiaco 6008 with 'Privacy Officer' as the subject. We will address your complaint as directly as possible, usually within 48 hours, and liaise with you during the period of the investigation. We regard the matter very seriously and will attempt to correct any breach as soon as practical. In the event a breach does occur, we will comply with the Notifiable Data Breaches (NDB) scheme and we will address our procedures immediately so as not to allow another breach of that nature. An individual has the right to contact the Office of the Privacy Commissioner on 1300 363 992 or go to www.privacy.gov.au . You can also contact the OAIC. Generally, the OAIC will require you to give them time to respond before they will investigate. For further information visit www.oaic.gov.au or call the OAIC on 1300 363 992.

What is personal information, sensitive information and credit related information?

The term “personal information” is defined by the Privacy Act 1988. “Personal information” is information or an opinion that can be used to identify you. This might include personal details like your name, address, date of birth, other contact information like your email address and phone number and financial information like your credit card number or bank details.

“Sensitive information” is a type of personal information. Sensitive information can include information like your racial or ethnic origin, health information, political opinions, membership of a political association, professional or trade association or trade union and criminal record.

Sometimes, the personal information we collect from you will constitute credit related personal information. “Credit related personal information” is defined by the Privacy Code. Credit related personal information can include information about your identity, repayment history information, whether you have overdue payments, whether you have ever been the subject of credit related court proceedings or insolvency proceedings and whether, in the opinion of a credit provider, you have committed a serious credit infringement.

This Privacy Policy applies to personal information, sensitive information and credit related information collected by us, whether we have asked for the information or not.

Why and when your consent is necessary

When you register as a patient of our practice, you provide consent for Dr Timothy Hewitt and practice staff to access and use your personal information so they can provide you with the best possible healthcare. Only staff who need to see your personal information will have access to it. If we need to use your information for anything else, we will seek additional consent from you to do this.

Why do we collect, use, hold and share your personal information?

Our practice will need to collect your personal information to provide healthcare services to you. Our main purpose for collecting, using, holding and sharing your personal information is to communicate with you and to manage your health and we limit the information held. We also use your personal information for directly related business activities, such as financial claims and payments, practice audits and accreditation, and business processes (eg staff training). Other reasons we might use your personal information include:

- to refer you to another medical practitioner or health care provider;
- in sending specimens, such as wound swabs, for analysis;
- to refer you to a hospital for treatment and/or advice;
- in connection with the management of our practice; and
- in connection with quality assurance, practice accreditation and complaint handling.

What personal information do we collect?

The information we will collect about you includes your:

- names, date of birth, addresses, contact details
- medical information including medical history, medications, allergies, adverse events, immunisations, social history, family history and risk factors
- Medicare number (where available) for identification and claiming purposes

DR TIMOTHY HEWITT

- healthcare identifiers
- health fund details
- Pre-operative and post-operative photographs
- ethnicity
- billing and account details
- any information sent to us through correspondence

Dealing with us anonymously

You have the right to deal with us anonymously or under a pseudonym unless it is impracticable for us to do so or unless we are required or authorised by law to only deal with identified individuals. In most situations, we will be unable to provide you with services if you do not provide us with your personal information.

How do we collect your personal information?

Our practice may collect your personal information in several different ways.

- When you make your first appointment our practice staff will collect your personal and demographic information via your registration.
- During the course of providing medical services, we will collect further personal information.
- We will also collect your personal information when you visit our website, send us an email or SMS, telephone us, make an online appointment or communicate with us using social media.
- In some circumstances personal information will also be collected from other sources. Often this is because it is not practical or reasonable to collect it from you directly, including if it is an emergency and we are unable to obtain your consent. This may include information from:
 - your guardian or responsible person
 - other involved healthcare providers, such as GP's, allied health professionals (like physiotherapists, occupational therapists, psychologists, pharmacists, dentists and nurses), hospitals, day surgery units, community health services and pathology and diagnostic imaging services

- your health fund, Medicare, or the Department of Veterans' Affairs (as necessary).

When, why and with whom do we share your personal information?

We sometimes share your personal information:

- with third parties who are related to us, which is outlined in more detail below;
- with third parties who work with our practice for business purposes, such as accreditation agencies or information technology providers – these third parties are required to comply with APPs and this policy
- Government institutions when required by law (eg Medicare Australia, the Department of Veterans' Affairs and the Department of Human Services)
- Solicitors and insurance companies involved in your care and when we have a signed authority from you to do so or when you have directed us to contact the solicitors and/or insurance company on your behalf by supplying us with the relevant contact details
- Dr Timothy Hewitt's Insurance Company, and other business organisations, if required to ensure the business activities of Dr Timothy Hewitt and his related companies are insured or otherwise covered. Disclosure of personal information if necessary in this case is of a general nature and is de-identified.
- when it is necessary to lessen or prevent a serious threat to a patient's life, health or safety or public health or safety, or it is impractical to obtain the patient's consent
- to assist in locating a missing person
- for the purpose of confidential dispute resolution process, which would involve disclosing information to our solicitors, our insurers and their solicitors
- when there is a statutory requirement to share certain personal information (e.g. some diseases require mandatory notification)
- during the course of providing medical services, through eTP

It is unlikely that we would be required to disclose your personal information to overseas recipients but in the event that this is necessary, your information will be de-identified to the extent necessary to make sure your privacy is respected.

At times, it may be necessary for other organisations or contractors to view or access information to facilitate the operation of our practices. Where this occurs, such access shall be limited to necessary information only and in accordance with the terms of this policy. Temporary secretaries.

If you do not wish for your personal information to be disclosed to another organisation please indicate at the time your information is collected. This will be noted on your patients and/or client records and every effort will be made to respect this wish.

Only people who need to access your information will be able to do so. Other than in the course of providing medical services or as otherwise described in this policy, our practice will not share personal information with any third party without your consent.

Our practice will not use your personal information for marketing any of our goods or services directly to you without your express consent. If you do consent, you may opt out of direct marketing at any time by notifying our practice in writing.

Except when it is reasonably expected that we do so, requests made to access your personal details, will not be granted unless we receive express permission by you. Under no circumstances will staff provide details of your personal information when it is not necessary. Dr Timothy Hewitt will only disclose your details when medically necessary and in order to perform our undertaking to you. All staff at our Clinics are aware of our policy in terms of protecting the privacy of personal information and of the legislation regarding this.

If you would like to check what information is held about you, you can contact Dr Timothy Hewitt, by emailing info@timhewittplasticsurgeon.com.au or telephoning (08) 9388 9222.
